$2.895 LEVY OFFICIALLY SET TODAY

County Board Adopts 1932-33 Budget; Items Given

San Mateo county's tax rate was officialy set at $2.895 on Thursday when the board of supervisors met in special session to adopt the 1932-1933 county budget.

Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey, South San Francisco, who lost his seat on the board to Albert J. Witt, Northern San Mateo county dairyman, was not present to fix the rate, but both Supervisor John W. Poole and Chairman Manuel Francis, Half Moon Bay, each of whom was returned to his post, presented broad smiles when congratulated on their victories.

Same As Last Year

The new levy is the same as was applied to peninsula cities last year, but represents a 40-cent cut to the outlying districts, where the 40-cent road tax has been removed by the supervisors.

San Mateo and Burlingame, because they do not pay the Junior College Outside Tuition levy and the County Library Levy, escape with 12 cents lower tax rate than the other peninsula cities. The rate applicable in those two communities will be $2.767

Amounts To Be Raised

Amounts to be raised by application of the county rate for the various purposes are:

General, $405,080, made up of the following amounts: $190,089 for general purposes; $110,123 for Community Hospital, $83,770 for social service, $21,048 for the Relief Home.

Elementary Schools, $335.79.

Junior College Outside Tuition, $27,275.

County Highway Maintenance, $216,085.

Salary, $184,607.

Court House Bond, 1906, $4,246.

County Courthouse Furniture, $900.

County Highway Bond, 1913, $86,820.

Advertising, $3,078.

County Planning Commission, $5,023.

Unbudgeted Reserve, $21,818.

County Library, $4,118.

Values Are Shown

San Mateo county rate is based on a net valuation of $45,694,434 which is cut down from an assessed value of $63,859,771 through exemption.

Values of county buildings and institutions are given as follows for a total of $1,268,000: Courthouse, $260,000; Relief Home, $125,000; Community Hospital, $720,000, and Memorial Park, County Jail, etc.

The total outstanding debt of the county is listed as $782,213.97, of which $723,000 is for bonds, and $59,213.97 to meet outstanding warrants.

STATE FAIR TO BE LARGEST

The $10,000,000 California State Fair show, opening in Sacramento September 3-10 with its 15 centers of interest, will surpass in interest any three-ring circus that ever appeared, according to Charles W. Paine, secretary-manager, who announces that already more than half the counties of the state have signified their intention of exhibiting their products.

Workmen are actively engaged in installing exhibits in the big horticultural building, and entries have begun to come in for all the 14 departments of the fair.

Last year 350,000 passed through the turnstiles, an all-time record for the eight-day show, and this year's mark is expected to exceed even that record.

Directors of the various departments report entries in larger number than ever before. The displays of livestock, horticultural and agricultural products will be of high class this year because of the banner year on the farms.

The national classic, the California horse show, heads the list of entertainment features in many ways. Thousands annually jam the huge arena each evening to see the thoroughbreds go through their paces and strive to carry off prizes aggregating $22,240.

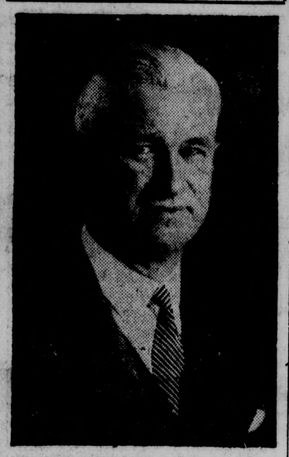
Councilman Put to Flight by Rattler

Existing records for the broad jump, vault, high jump, hurdles and cross-country flight were broken by Councilman Henry Beeger Sunday.

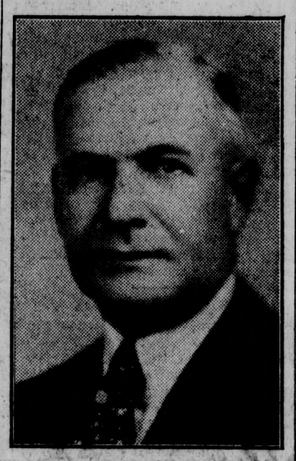
While hunting deer on Black Mountain, near Mt. Hamilton, early yesterday, Beeger sat down upon a large rock to await the arrival of his companions, Dr. H. A. Clattenburg, W. W. Thompson, local contractor, and Ernest Werder, county purchasing agent.

Shortly afterward, he felt something crawling beneath him. He looked and leaped. A rattlesnake was emerging from a crevice in the rock—and he had been sitting on its head!

County Ballot Leaders



JUDGE FRANKLIN SWART



HARRY L. PARKMAN

JOHN W. POOLE

POOLE WINS NEW TERM

John W. Poole, incumbent supervisor of the Third Township, was re-elected by a substantial margin over his rival, Willis G. Frost, in Tuesday's voting.

Redwood City gave Poole a lead and Menlo Park increased the margin.

The final unofficial count showed Poole had 4,560 votes to 2,678 for Frost.

County Plants Bid for Ribbons

One hundred potted plants and several prize strawflower exhibits speeded toward Sacramento from Redwood City in a large truck today in preparation for the opening Saturday of the California State Fair.

Max Leonard, county agricultural commissioner, left this morning with an advance consignment of the county's plants, the California strawflower bear, and other booth features, arranged for by Roscoe D. Wyatt, manager of the county chamber of commerce.

Mrs. Leonard and Dick Winzler of Redwood City will have charge of the county booth, and Wyatt and Leonard will make frequent trips to the capital with the prize county blooms.

Miss Marcella O'Keefe, assistant librarian at Stanford University, has secured a leave of absence to attend the University of California, where she will enter the school of librarianship to take a course entitling her to become a licensed librarian. She will finish her work next May.

PETERSON'S LEAD OVER CALL HOLDS

Except for the definite capture of the assembiy post on the Republican side by Col. Frederick Peterson of Burlingame, and a strong bid for the Democratic nomination by Attorney George Whitehead of Redwood City, San Mateo county's Tuesday election results were unchanged today over yesterday's announcements.

There are 179 absentee voters' ballots to be counted.

Colonel Peterson swept quietly into office while Wayne R. Millington of Redwood City and Harrison W. Call of South San Francisco were engaging in a warm pre-election campaign.

Peterson captured Burlingame, his home city, by a large margin; Millington carried Redwood City better than three to one over Peterson, and was away ahead in every voting precinct in the Southern San Mateo county area, and Call captured Northern San Mateo county.

Whitehead Surprises

Conceded to be an outsider, Whitehead's strength came as a distinct surprise and there were but 38 votes between himself and Peterson for the Democratic nomination this noon.

The final tally, plus the absentee voter ballots, could easily change this result, it was said at the courthouse.

Figures announced at noon by County Clerk Elmore B. Hinman and William H. Augustus, chief deputy clerk, were called "semi-official" and were given as follows:

ASSEMBLYMAN (Republican)

Peterson	4187
Call	3816
Whitehead	3420
Millington	2969
Haydock	1494

ASSEMBLYMAN (Democratic)

Peterson	2077
Whitehead	2039
Call	1969
Millington	1483

Slight changes were made in the unofficial totals of yesterday for the two county judgeships, but the 10 candidates seeking the two offices remained in the order as given.

Attorney Maxwell McNutt of Burlingame continued to lead Superior Judge George H. Buck by over 4000 votes, but the latter expressed confidence today that he would be elected in November in the runoff.

Smiling broadly, Judge Buck said: "Everything is fine."

Partee Ready For Fullback At St. Mary's

What is regarded as his most promising year in football at St. Mary's College is just starting for Gordon Partee, the former Sequoia high school fullback who is getting No. 1 chance at full for the Gaels this season.

When Coach Slip Madigan sends his team against the West Coast Army September 10, this boy Partee is quite likely to be in the starting lineup.

Madigan is cheered by the prospects of his best team in the 12 years he has been at the Moraga institution. He has a squad of 60, including 17 lettermen.

Here is a starting lineup, made entirely of lettermen, that he can and probably will throw at the Jarheads:

Rubel, center; Steponovich and Gerardin, guards; Gilbert and Jorgensen, tackles; F. Canrinus and Vivaldi, ends; Capt. Bill Beasley, quarterback; Baird and Brovelli, halves, and Partee, fullback.

Shifting of Angel Brovelli, he of the deadly tackling fame, to a halfback berth has cleared the way for Partee, who is in his second year on the varsity squad. The former Cherokee star played full time in the Southern California game last year as a sophomore.

His chief competition for the berth this year comes from Dodson.

Another former Sequoian who may be heard from at St. Mary's this year is "Chuck" DeLacy, a halfback candidate. If DeLacy plays with the reckless abandon with which he can play if so minded, he should see action in the Gael backfield occasionally this year as a sophomore.

The other peninsula football recruits who have served well at St. Mary's are back again this year, including the Canrinus brothers and Jorgensen, all former Burlingame players.

MAY YET MEET

FREDERICK PETERSON

GEORGE WHITEHEAD

Frederick Peterson of Burlingame and George S. Whitehead of Redwood City may yet meet in the assembly fight if the latter scores most of the absentee voters ballots, 179 of which will be counted tomorrow.

Peninsulans Contest Will

Spreckels' Kin Fight Terms in Mother's Large Estate

Heirs of the late John D. Spreckels, Jr., today had begun court action before Superior Judge Graham in San Francisco in an effort to set aside a part of their mother's estate to June Kendrick, 10, daughter of T. Rodney Kendrick, San Francisco artist, their stepfather.

The petitioners are Mrs. Marie Spreckels Elizalde of Hillsborough, John D. Spreckels III, and Adolph B. Spreckels of Seattle. All are children of Mrs. Edith Huntington Spreckels Wakefield Kendrick, who died as the result of an automobile accident in February, 1931. Kendrick was her third husband.

At issue is an $11,000,000 trust fund, created in 1902 for Mrs. KeKndrick by Mrs. Arabella D. Kendrick, widow of Colis P. Huntington.

Mrs. Kendrick left her entire estate to Kendrick.

Through Attorneys Louis S. Beedy of San Francisco and Ethan Allen Peyser of Seattle, the Spreckels heirs are seeking to show that the intentions of Mrs. Huntington in creating the trust will be more nearly carried out if June Kendrick, rather than her father, benefits by it.

Train Victims Showing Gains

Fay Hartsough and John E. Ralston Jr., victims of Tuesday night's automobile-train collision at the Broadway crossing in Redwood City, are gaining today in their slow recovery from injuries.

The condition of Miss Hartsough, who is at the Mills Memorial Hospital in San Mateo, is slightly improved, according to Dr. R. F. Monteith. She is still in a semi-conscious state as the result of severe cuts and bruises about the head and a broken collar bone.

Ralston, who is at the Community Hospital, is resting easily, Dr. A. L. Offield reports. The youth has a deep slash in his right shoulder and side.

FINAL DRAFT OF CHARTER NOW READY

Adhering to the principal that all administrative officers under San Mateo county's proposed charter should be appointive and that policy determining and legislative officers should be elective, the San Mateo County Board of Freeholders at its meeting in Redwood City Wednesday reconsidered the office of county clerk and finally decided to place that office under the list of elective ones.

The action was taken prior to the final reading of the charter and was incorporated in the final draft. The freeholders completed their work last night and passed the charter as corrected, setting the date for signing as tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock.

The official signing will take place in the supervisors chambers at the county court house.

Mayors of peninsula cities, county officials, members of the board of supervisors, the press and citizens are invited to attend.

On November Ballot

After the signing of the charter by the members of the board of freeholders one copy will be presented Saturday morning to the county clerk and a copy to the board of supervisors. The supervisors will then have the charter published as required by law and it will be placed on the November ballot for ratification or rejection by the voters.

The change in the county clerk set-up from appointive to elective as at present was considered after Freeholder Edward Brady of San Mateo moved that the former action of the board in regard to this office be reconsidered.

The motion was seconded by Freeholder Sam H. Winklebleck of Redwood City, and was carried with only two dissenting votes: Those of Freeholders Chas. F. Eldridge and Alvin Hatch.

Matter Is Argued

Arguments were presented by various members of the board showing that this officer by virtue of the fact that he is the official clerk of the superior courts is strictly policy determining, and that in elections the clerk has policy determining functions. The clerk is also clerk of the board of supervisors.

A motion was then made by Freeholder David Campbell of Daly City and seconded by Brady that the county clerk be an elective office.

Before the motion was put to a vote, a communicattion was read from Freeholder J. E. McCurdy of San Mateo stating that, if possible, he desired the board to record his vote favoring the election of the county clerk.

As Freeholder William Murphy and William Eddy were absent, but since these two had opposed the change, it was decided that all three votes be recorded. When the motion was put to a vote it carried, 11 to 4, the dissenting votes being: Freeholders Eddy, Eldridge, Hatch and Murphy.

Francis Keeps Supervisor Job

HALF MOON BAY, Sept. 2.—Supervisor Manuel Francis was returned to his seat on the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors here Tuesday when he defeated Manuel ("Pat") Cardoza in a hotly contested race. Francis' lead was not overwhelming, but reports from practically all precincts gave him a safe majority.

The final vote was: Francis, 724; Cardoza, 486.

STATE SENATE SEAT TAKEN BY PARKMAN; JUDGE RUN-OFF SET

Scoring a surprisingly high vote over Superior Judge George H. Buck, veteran of nearly half a century of public service to San Mateo county, Maxwell McNutt, Burlingame attorney, lead with 9,914 ballots for the Department No. 1 judgeship in a complete unofficial tabulation of Tuesday's ballots as the count stood late yesterday.

Judge Buck held second place with 5.540 ballots in the unofficial canvass, and will face McNutt in a run-off in November.

Gilbert D. Ferrell of Redwood City came third with 3,959 piled up 4,000 votes elsewhere in the district. The vote:

Free, 5,863; Hendricks, 5,641
McGrath, 5,396; McGrath (Democratic) 5,524.

Joseph J. Bullock of Atherton was fourth with 2,898; Charles Frey of Redwood City fifth with 2,294, and John F. Davis was last with 1,969.

Swart Wins Handily

In the contest for the bench in Department No. 2, Superior Judge Franklin Swart, an appointee of Gov. James Rolph just a year ago, won an overwhelming vote of confidence, recording the highest tally of the day.

Swart was given 12,934 ballots, according to the unofficial canvass.

Justice of the Peace Percy Jackson of San Mateo was second with 5,220, City Councilman Paul A. McCarthy of Redwood City was third with 3,146 ballots, and Bush Finnell of Lomita Park came next with 2,298.

Parkman In Front

Harry L. Parkman of San Mateo was the outstanding favorite of the voters in both the Republican and Democratic ranks, winning both nominations and assuring him of the first direct senatorial post to come to San Mateo county.

Parkman got 8,633 votes to 6,437 for William Crosby of Burlingame, and Daniel Sullivan of Menlo Park. He obtained 2,977 of the Democratic votes: Crosby took 2,683, and Joseph O'Malley of Burlingame gathered 2,043.

Free Meets McGrath

Congressman Arthur M. Free of San Jose failed to clear the field of his opposition and must meet Justice of the Peace John J. McGrath, winner of the Democratic nomination, in the November general.

Free defeated Scott Hendricks, San Mateo county, in Hendricks' own county by 200 votes, and

Poole Re-elected

Supervisor John W. Poole of Redwood City won the right to another four years as spokesman of Third Township by besting Willis G. Frost, Redwood City civil engineer.

Poole won 4,560 votes to 2,678 for Frost. Alfred Winter, who withdrew, polled about 100 votes.

Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey of South San Francisco appeared to have lost the First Township seat to his rival, Albert J. Witt, dairyman.

Witt, 3,804.
Hickey, 3,721.

Chairman Manuel Francis of Half Moon Bay defended his supervisorial post against Manuel ("Pat") Cardoza, and Paul M. Schaible of Montara, who ran: Francis, 677; Cardoza, 491; Schaible, 32.

Pioneer Dies Here Tuesday

Mrs. Jennie E. Hartley, pioneer educator of Redwood City and San Mateo county, died early Tuesday at her home on Middlefield road. She had been in failing health for several years.

Early in her notable career as a teacher in the public schools, Mrs. Hartley taught at Purissima School, on the coastside, which was one of the first to be established in San Mateo county. About the year 1870, she met G. P. Hartley, who had come from New York to California to make his fortune. They were married, and together they taught school at Half Moon Bay from 1871 until 1877.

In 1876, Mr. Hartley was chosen to be county superintendent of schools, a position at that time which paid only $75 per month. It was necessary to continue active as a school-teacher, and both he and his wife became members of the Redwood City faculty. He continued in the office of county superintendent until 1887.

After his administratiton of the county schools, Mr. Hartley and Mrs. Hartley continued for years as teachers in the local schools. Among those whom they taught were numerous young people who became prominent in later life. A few of them, and the positions they have held, are: George Hall, district superintendent of San Mateo; Roy W. Cloud, executive secretary of the California Teachers' Association; W. J. Savage, district superintendent, Daly City, Colma and Lawndale; Charles C. Hughes, city superintendent, Sacramento; J. B. Hughes, principal, high school, Oroville; Mrs. Ada Caldwell, dean of women, San Diego State Teachers' College; and Miss Mary Stewart, principal, Luther Burbank School, Santa Rosa. In addition, many other men and women now living in this locality remember Mrs. Hartley, their teacher, with affection.

Surviving relatives include Sydney Williams, a foster son, to whom she was devoted, and his family; and the Misses Birdie and Dollie Bacon, cousins.

The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in the James Crowe Co. chapel on Middlefield road. The Rev. Norman Pendleton, pastor of the First Congregational Church, officiated. Interment followed at Woodlawn Cemetery.

Mrs. Hartley's maiden name was Jennie White. She was born in Warren, O. Her husband passed away May 2, 1907.

The following Democratic county committee for the township was elected:

James Davis, Omar E. Doyle, J. F. MacDonald, W. L. Millen, Harper Peddicord, E. Scott, J. V. Swift, and George B. Walsh.

Record Vote Cast in S. M. County

A. M. FREE WINS G. O. P. NOMINATION

Incumbent Returned Winner in All 5 Counties

Capturing the high vote in the five counties of the Eighth Congressional District, Arthur M. Free of San Jose, incumbent, held an 8000 lead over his nearest opponent, Scott Hendricks of San Mateo, for the Republican nomination, Tuesday.

The ballot count for 574 precincts out of the district's 668 was 26,412 for Free to 18,283 for Hendricks, with John J. McGrath trailing in third place.

Free was just 360 votes ahead in San Mateo county in the unofficial tally compiled in the offices of County Clerk Elmore B. Hinman, but this lead, coupled with margins captured in Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, Monterey and San Benito counties assured Free the Republican nomination.

Free will meet Justice of the Peace John J. McGrath of San Mateo in the finals next November. McGrath, on the Democratic ticket, polled 6185 in San Mateo county.

Local Congress Vote

Congressman Arthur M. Free of the Eighth District was given a close battle in the southern section of San Mateo county for renomination on the Republican ticket. Free had a plurality within Redwood City, but other districts generally gave Scott Hendricks of San Mateo a slight lead.

Justice of the Peace John J. McGrath of San Mateo almost uniformly ran third on the Republican ticket, but was unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

❖ Woodside ❖

At the conclusion of the horse show at Menlo Park last Saturday night, the five gaited saddle horse donated by Mrs. William Roth to the Junior League was awarded by the committee in charge to Miss Marianna Avenali.

Combining a supper, swimming party and dance, Miss Madeline Haas and her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Lilienthal, entertained a large group of friends on Sunday at the Samuel Lilienthal summer home here.

Mrs. Emma Andreen is being visited by her sister, Mrs. Johnson, from Oakland.

The Portola Social Club met on Thursday night to plan the social activities of the Portola Valley for the coming season.

Like the reunion of some big happy family, the Woodside Parent-Teacher Association held its first meeting of the school year at the new school auditorium. Formal speeches were dispensed with in order that there might be more time for social intercourse and a very active year is anticipated.

The people of Woodside showed their appreciation of their present supervisor by voting for him 4 to 1 in the election of Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Swinnerton and son returned on Friday from a trip into Idaho.

The Woodside Gardener's Association held its monthly meeting on Monday night at the school auditorium and offered a fine exhibit of dahlias and asters. It was voted to hold a card party on the evening of September 16.

The fall term of the Portola School will open on September 6. Most of the fruit picking is over and the children will be able to give their full attention to their studies.

Menlo Park

Completing several years of study and research work in Europe, Right Reverend Monsignor George Lacombe, brilliant scholar of the archdiocese of San Francisco, returned here with the Most Reverend Edward J. Hanna, D.D., last week.

Dr. Lacombe, former pastor of St. Aloysius Church, Mayfield, left for Europe on May 12, 1923, to pursue higher studies under world famous teachers of Germany, France and Spain.

He received a degree of doctor of philosophy at Stanford in 1922, and until his departure for Europe, devoted his time to study of epigraphy and paleography, completing valuable work of research in those two lines.

He conducted a course of literature at Sacred Heart Academy, Menlo Park, and gave a series of 23 lectures to the faculty of Notre Dame College, San Jose, on the history of the Church in North Africa. In that series he gave a scholarly treatise of the lives of St. Augustine and St. Cyprian.

Dr. Lacombe spent three months in Germany, then proceeded to the Sorbonne where he resided at the Institute Catholique, attending the lecture of Abbe Rousselot, father of the science of phonetics.

From Paris he proceeded to Madrid, and upon the invitation of Menendez Pidal at the Centro de Studios Historicos, co-operated with this noted scholar in the work of publishing the medieval texts on the early history of the Spanish dioceses before the time of the Cluniac reform.

Dr. Pidal is internationally recognized as an authority in his field, and his selection of Dr. Lacombe to co-operate with him in his burdensome undertaking was an exceptional tribute to the attainments of this priest of the archdiocese of San Francisco.

During the war Monsignor Lacombe saw service in France as chaplain of the 34th Artillery, 91st division. He is a member of the Officers' Reserve Corps, with the rank of captain.

In April, 1930, Dr. Lacombe was made a domestic prelate with the title of Right Reverend Monsignor, by His Holiness Pope Pius XI.

Father Lacombe was assistant pastor in Menlo Park under the late Father J. B. Hannigan during the war.

St. Joseph's Parochial School will open on September 6 with an increased attendance. All the pupils are requested to register on Tuesday next to start the term properly.

Miss Kearney is to become a nun and on Sunday will formally enter the Convent of the Blessed Virgin, San Francisco, a teaching order. By EL THOMAS

Notwithstanding a ninth-inning rally that netted four runs, including another homer by Pete Lawler, the Redwood City Eagles lost their crucial Peninsula Baseball League tilt with the H. Moffats of Oakland in a fast 9 to 6 battle on the Sequoia high school diamond Sunday.

Although the Moffats started out in a decisive fashion that bode evil for the Redwood City pastimers, it was an unfortunate mix-up on the bases in the fourth inning that prevented the Eagles' brilliant closing rally from having the desired effect. Ken Farrell, leading off in the fourth, was cut off at the plate, and "Red" Howard and Gene Miller found themselves at second at the same time, costing two outs.

Hatley in Trouble Early

A three-bagger by Freitas, first man up for the Moffats, plus a single, a walk and an error, put Pitcher Elsworth Hatley of the Eagles in a hole in the first inning with the bases loaded, but he retired the side with only one run coming in.

Another boot and four successive basehits in the fourth gave the Moffats three more runs, but there was still plenty of hope in the Eagle camp until disaster hit the three men who passed first safely in the last of the fourth.

Four more singles in a row netted the Moffats their fifth run in the fifth frame, and Pacheco's homer in the sixth made it 6-0. In the seventh Caldera doubled, and two walks and a passed ball resulted in an 8-0 lead for the visitors.

Eagles Come to Life

It was all Eagles the rest of the way, but too late. Killilea walked and made his way around the bags for the Eagles' first run in the seventh. Miller's two-bagger scored K. Farrell in the eighth. Then came the ninth.

Pete Lawler led off with a homer, and the race was on. Hatley and Ray Farrell drew walks. "Hap" Hughes, batting for Stephens, singled ahead of a two-bagger by "Dummy" Farrell that cleared off the bags, making it 9 to 6. Farrell went to third when Howard and Killilea drew passes to fill the bases, but Smith, pinch-hitter, batted into a fielder's choice for the third out.

Will Play Twice at Felton

The Eagles are now in third place in the league and will play their final game with the Peerless Laundry after their double header at Felton Sunday and Monday. The Moffats, winner of the first half, are back in the running with the laundrymen for the second-half title as well.

Landlubbers and Sea Scouts Stage Cruise Over Week-end

Boy Scout troop 143, with Scoutmaster Bob Steffens in charge, enjoyed an unusual week-end "hike" to Pacific City in the Sea Scout motor sailer and the Boy Scouts went nautical.

Blankets and camping supplies were stowed aboard and the whistle was blown at 6:30 p. m. Saturday as the propeller kicked the boat out into the stream. Night came on before the beach at Coyote Point was reached and the night navigating was an extra thrill for the land scouts. Each scout was given a chance to steer the boat under the instruction of a Sea Scout and learned many tricks about navigating, markers, channels and so on. Upon reaching the beach the boat was anchored off shore and the troop and its luggage taken ashore in the tender. The camping spot was reached at 8:15.

Soon cooking fires were blazing as the well-trained patrol leaders supervised the preparation of supper. The leaders take pride in getting up a well-cooked and tempting meal for their groups. Soon appetizing odors filled the night air and beans, soups, stews, etc., were being dished out to the sea-going Boy Scouts.

After dishes were washed and camp patrolled, the blankets were spread and everyone turned in.

About midnight a liberty party from the Sea Scout crew of the motor sailer returned from the show and tried to hail their mates aboard to come ashore with the landing boat to get them. No amount of hailing or whistling could arouse the sleeping crew aboard so the "stranded" sailors had to turn in with the Boy Scouts, who checked up another good turn.

Chocolate, bacon and eggs and hotcakes were on the fire by 6 a. m. and at 8 the boat was reloaded and after circling around the waters of Burlingame a course was made for Redwood City which was reached about 10 a. m.

The Sea Scouts are planning a trip to Vallejo over the Labor Day week-end. They are expecting a whale-boat to be turned over to them for training purposes and hope to be able to tow it home at that time.

Secondary Road System May Get More County Highways

In order to reduce county road costs, the California State Automobile Association and the Automobile Club of Southern California today opened a campaign to have the state take over 6,624 miles of county roads in its secondary system.

Statae Senator Arthur H. Breed, member of the association, announced that he will introduce measures to make the plan effective at the next session of the legislature.

The plan suggests expansion of the state highway system by inclusion of 3,724 miles of county highway in the south and 2,900 miles in the north, thus eualizing mileage in the two sections.

Breed pointed out that counties now spend $6,000,000 a year for road improvement and maintenance, and that this sum comes from local property taxes.

Under the new plan, he said, considerably more would be available from gasoline taxes, which could then be expended in improving county roads and through routes in cities.

NEWS OF HIGHWAYS OVER CALIFORNIA

The Claremont road, also known as the Fish Ranch road, leading from Berkeley to Contra Costa county points, has been closed for resurfacing and will not be opened to travel again for about 30 days. Traffic which would ordinarily use this road will meanwhile have to use the Tunnel road.

The road from Fort Bragg to the Redwood highway, U. S. 101, has been given a light coat of oil and gravel to the mouth of Ten-Mile creek and this section is in good shape. Conditions are then fair to Rockport, although narrow for a stretch south of Westport and rather chucky in places. The road over the mountain into Rockport is smooth, but narrow and winding. Good mountain road follows along the Hollow Tree road to the Redwood highway.

Travel conditions are good on the Navarro River road from Mountain House on the Redwood highway, U. S. 101, to the ocean. From the mouth of the Navarro river to Mendocino the road is rather chucky in places, followed by good road to Fort Bragg.

The road from Chinquapin to Glacier Point in Yosemite National Park is in good condition.

Construction between Gold Run and Blue Canyon Airport on the Auburn road, U. S. 40, from Sacramento to Lake Tahoe, is causing delays of two to five minutes. Steam shovels are at work where a section of the new highway crosses the present route. The remainder of the road to Lake Tahoe is in excellent condition.

Good conditions now prevail on all of the various routes to Yosemite valley. The routes include the All-Year highway from Merced via Mariposa and El Portal; the Big Oak Flat road via Manteca, Groveland and Carl Inn; the Wawona road via Mormon Bar and Wawona; the road from Madera via Wawona; and the road from Fresno via Friant and Wawona.

Although a bridge has collapsed across the river east of Dos Rios, the road from Laytonville to Covelo is not closed. At Dos Rios two temporary bridges are crossed and tractors are used to pull cars up to the Covelo road.

SHORTRIDGE LOSS REAL ONE; TUBBS SHOULD BE SUCCESSOR

The defeat of Samuel M. Shortridge at the primary election last Tuesday is deplorable in that California loses the services of an experienced and able senator, one who has ever been loyal to his state and faithful to his party.

The so-called wet issue has taken hold of the voters of the state, it becoming an hysteria with them. Shortridge was unable to stem this ever swelling tide and he went down to defeat, although he could have done more at Washington for the wet cause at the next session and subsequent sessions than any other man could possibly do.

Senator Shortridge will go down in history as the ablest senator ever sent to Washington from this state and one who accomplished more for California than any representative we have ever had in the upper house of congress.

We bow to the will of the majority of the voters of the Republican party and will urge all Republicans to rally to the standard of Tallant Tubbs. The Times-Gazette will give the nominee its fullest support.

The Democratic nominee, William Gibbs McAdoo, is an astute politician, with a nation-wide reputation as a vote getter. Southern California wants a senator. The voters there will bend every effort during the coming campaign to land him in Washington. Tallant Tubbs has a battle. The Republican party of the state must organize to combat the southern man. We ask every Republican to get behind the young man from San Francisco and elect him next November.

FREE, PARKMAN, SWART AND POOLE WIN FINE VICTORIES

The victory of A. M. Free last Tuesday is gratifying to his friends in San Mateo county. He carried the county and his district by a substantial majority and will do so again in November. His Democratic opponent, J. J. McGrath, received a big vote in the county as he did in other portions of the Eighth District. There is little doubt that Congressman Free will be returned to Washington by a big vote in November.

Harry Parkman's victory for a seat in the state senate is pleasing to his friends, who predicted his election. Parkman not only secured the Republican nomination but the Democratic endorsement as well. "Senator Parkman" now if you please.

Col. Frederick Peterson apparently has won both the Republican and Democratic nominations. We supported Mr. Wayne Millington for the position and hoped he would win. The big voting population of San Mateo and Burlingame won for Peterson.

Judge George H. Buck will be a contender with Maxwell McNutt at the November election. The former is going to organize his forces and put up a stiff battle with the hope that he may win. His friends are enthusiastically rallying to his support. This contest will probably be the liveliest and most interesting of any that has ever taken place in San Mateo county. Judge Buck's friends are certain of victory.

Judge Franklin Swart swept the decks last Tuesday in his contest for judge of Department Number Two, receiving 14,000 votes, 3,000 more than he needed to top the combined vote of his three competitors. This is as it should be for Mr. Swart has made good during his short time on the bench, always showing ability and fine judicial temperament.

John W. Poole had an easy victory at the primary election last Tuesday, defeating his opponent nearly 2,000 votes. Mr. Poole has made a good supervisor, courteous and considerate always and ever ready to do favors and help those in distress. His constituents could not do otherwise than keep Mr. Poole in the position he has ably filled.

Miss Helen McDonald of San Francisco is the guest this week of Mrs. John Weston of Bay View Heights.

C. H. Gatchells Home From Month In the North

The Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Gatchell have returned from a month's vacattion, three weeks of which were spent at Lake Tahoe and in Nevada where they visited the Indian School at Stewart, and the state penitentiary at Carson City. The visitors were impressed by the evidences of prehistoric life in the rock on which the penitentiary is built. Digging 17 feet into the rock for the building's foundation footprints were discovered of the three toed sloth, of elephants, and birds, leading to the conclusion of anthropologists that this level had been at one time a sand ooze, and that the tracks had gradually solidified, then petrified, in the rock formation.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Gatchell also paid a visit, while in Carson City, to the state executive, Governor Balzar, and went across to Reno for a short time.

In Stewart, the visitors were guests of the superintendent of the Indian School Baptist Mission, Miss Beatrice Underwood, who has been at the post for a number of years.

Upon their return to the peninsula, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Gatchell went to Mount Hermon for a Bible conference, sponsored by the Presbyterian board, which has been largely attended by ministers of all denominations this summer.

Burlingame Birth Rate Among Lowest

Burlingame, the second fastest growing city in the second fastest growing county of the fastest growing state of the union—had but one birth in 1930!

And it had no infant deaths in 1931.

The explanation is, of course, that Burlingame has no hospital and that babies born to Burlingame couples are brought into the world either in San Mateo, Palo Alto or San Francisco.

Dr. Giles S. Porter, state director of public health, attests to the accuracy of the figures.

Man, Girl Critically Hurt In R.C. Crossing Collision

Bystander Injured as Car Tossed Off Engine

Death beneath the wheels of the speeding Southern Pacific Daylight Limited for a young Redwood City girl and her companion, both members of prominent families, was narrowly averted Tuesday night when the two miraculously escaped with their lives after the coupe in which they were riding was smashed to bits in a collision with the northbound train at the Broadway crossing at 8:20. Both were badly hurt but will recover.

The girl is Fay Hartsough, 19, 450 Clinton street, daughter of Elmer E. Hartsough, Redwood City real estate broker and campaign manager for Supervisor John W. Poole. She incurred a possible skull fracture, concussion of the brain, a fracture of the right clavicle, and lacerations and severe bruises about the head.

John E. Ralston Jr., 25, of Pescadero, son of the superintendent of the San Mateo County Memorial Park and driver of the car, suffered a deep cut in the right shoulder and a badly wrenched hip, which possibly is fractured. He was taken to the Community Hospital at Beresford, where he is given excellent chances of recovery. Ralston, who recently recovered from illness which confined him to the hospital for some time, has been living in Redwood City.

A third life was saved when E. A. Weeks, 218-A East Bradford street, a pedestrian, jumped out of the direct path of the wrecked automobile as it went hurtling 45 feet through the air and struck him a glacing blow as it passed. Weeks' left hand was cut and his right shoulder was bruised.

Hundreds of people, drawn downtown to get election returns, witnessed the accident and were horrified to see the closed machine picked up lightly on the front of the locomotive and dashed against the tower house of the crossing watchman, J. W. Calvert.

Both occupants of the car were thrown clear of the machine and 25 feet away from the wreckage. The demolished coupe came to rest against the stairway of the tower after ripping off its rails and supports.

Calvert said he was waving his red lantern to stop auto traffic when the car, proceeding east, crossed in front of the oncoming train and was truck in the rear.

The trainmen did not see the auto in time to stop. The engineer was H. A. Reynolds, the fireman, A. W. Robottom and the conductor, L. J. Powers.

Officers Herman Fleishman and William Hogan of the Redwood City Police Department investigated the accident and directed the removal of the injured to the Redwood City emergency hospital, where they were given preliminary treatment by Drs. Harry E. Mason and R. F. Monteith.

Miss Chamberlain Weds Mr. Hunter At Woodside Home

Miss Edith Chamberlain and Mr. Phelps Stokes Hunter were married at one of the most brilliant weddings on the peninsula this summer, which took place Saturday afternoon at the Woodside home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Selah Chamberlain. Bishop Edward Lambe Parsons officiated in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends.

The bridal procession walked from the house down three terraces, across the bridge which spans a small pool, and to the altar which was improvised in a pergola at the end of the formal gardens. Mr. Chamberlain gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride wore an extremely simple gown of white satin, made with long sleeves, cowl neckline, and diamond shaped train. Her veil was of tulle and her flowers were white orchids combined with lilies of the valley. Miss Ellen Chamberlain was her sister's maid of honor. She was in white lace and a white hat. Her old-fashioned bouquet was of blue flowers. The four bridesmaids were all in blue lace, with blue hats and old-fashioned nosegays of white flowers. They were Miss Caroline Phelps Hunter, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Edith Bentley, Miss Kathleen Pringle and Miss Barbara Pond.

Robert Hunter was his brother's best man. Ushers were Allen Chickering Jr., Roger Kent, Clinton Bidwell, Peter Folger, Gordon McIntosh, and Selah Chamberlain Jr.

The informal reception took place in the garden.

Mrs. Hunter is a debutante of three seasons ago. Her education was received at the Katherine Branson School in Ross and in the East and abroad. She is a granddaughter of Mrs. Clinton B. Hale of Santa Barbara and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Mark L. Bristol. Mr. Hunter, a Yale man, belongs to Alpha Delta Phi fraternity. He also holds a degree from the Harvard School of Business Administration. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunter of Santa Barbara and Pebble Beach. Used clothing for men, women, and children, and all manner of household articles donated to the shop are mended, conditioned, and sold at nominal sums and the proceeds turned over to the student aid department at Sequoia Union High School. Local service clubs have "bundle days" for the benefit of the shop's stock, and individual donations are solicited. There will be a particular need this year for men's work clothes, and there is a standing need for shoes, particularly children's shoes. All clothing should be put in the best condition possible before it is given. Clean clothing, mended, will receive the appreciation of those in charge.

The club accepted the invitation of Roy A. Hohberger to attend a Y. M. C. A. dinner September 12 instead of holding its regular meeting on that date. There will be no meeting Monday, September 5, because of the holiday.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

CAMPAIGNS OLD AND NEW

Neither national nor local campaigns this year will be marked by as many personal appearances on the platform and direct pleas for votes as they were a decade ago. Largely attended political meetings, save national affairs, promise to be a thing of the past ere long, so extensive has become the use of radio. Of course, even short talks over the air are rather expensive, running as high as $500 an hour for local broadcasts in some of our large cities, but they are not more costly than hall rent and other expenses of old-fashioned political meetings.

Most of the studio broadcasts are brief, being from 10 to 15 minutes. Brevity in such cases as well as at public meetings is as highly appreciated by many as it was by those listening to a boresome platform orator who said, "I have only 10 minutes and hardly know where to begin." Upon which a man in the audience shouted, "Begin at the ninth minute!"

Political campaigning, save for radio addresses, has changed but little in the last 2000 years, as is proved by inscriptions on walls in ancient Pompeii, recently discovered by excavators. One sign urges citizens to "Vote for Pansa, who never got drunk," showing that there was a wet and dry issue even in that early day. Pompeiian women had no vote, but they got out and hustled for their favorites. Tetillus Scilla's "devoted wife" appeals for votes for him because he was "an ideal husband." A strong supporter of Lucius Tirenus was "his loving grandmother."

Roman candidates made threats as well as promises. One sign reads, "Woe to Pompeii if Camillus is not elected!" Another candidate of that gladiatorial age promised "free combats and cheap bread." One office seeker made his appeal to the younger generation. "Don't vote for old men," reads his sign. "Lucius Quirinus is an ideal youth."

Voters doubtless were as much perplexed by the pleas candidates then as now. The much-neglected rule of studying their record, character and qualifications for office has been a good one in every age since people began to vote.—Los Angeles Times.

GOOD SUGGESTION

Controller Ray L. Riley put his finger on a spot where a lot of money can be saved the California taxpayers and yet at the same time not the slightest injury be done to the conduct of the state's business in his suggestion that the practice of naming special attorneys for the various state bureaus and commissions be abolished.

The average salary of these attorneys, Riley points out, is $350 a month. Some of them receive as high as $7,000 a year.

A few of them actually do work which will bear comparison with the pay they received. But most of these jobs are political sinecures, pure and simple, by which political favorites are "taken care of" at the expense of the people.

A fair and honest examination probably would show that the same work could be done by the attorney general's office at not over one-third the present cost.

Riley points out that centering of all the legal work of the state government in one department is a reform already adopted in a number of other states, notably New York, and large savings have resulted.

Obviously the same thing would be true in California.

It would be a good thing if the legislature would go into this matter thoroughly at the next session.

It will be facing the task of providing for a big deficit.

If there were a deficit in purely ornamental state jobs, the citizenry will not go into heavy mourning.—Sacramento Bee.

TOMATO JUICE

"If it isn't one kind of California product, it is another. Now it's tomato juice.

A Californian can market anything. He is a promoter both by nature and training. Accustomed to big things, he has words to fit any situation or even the most humble product. He just "irrigates and cultivates and Deity exaggerates."

Carrots, prunes, spinach, tomato juice! It makes no difference in his technique. He could peddle skunks and have the world yelling for more.

He hands the world a lemon and tells it that citrus acid alkalies the system. It does; but the world would never believe it before. The world is now sucking lemons.

He recommends a glass of orange juice before breakfast as good for the digestion. Forthwith all the doctors help him promote. The Californian capitalizes on Tom Sawyer's methods and sets the world to selling its sunshine.

He suggests prunes. Prunes are a laxative. And before the world knew it needed prunes, he has it eating 'em for breakfast. Then he turns to spinach. Anybody who can market spinach is a genius. The Californian does it. Spinach is roughage. Mothers make their kids eat it. He markets lettuce and the world goes to grass.

And now it is tomato juice!—Los Angeles Times.

Chester H. Rowell speaks of the constitution of the United States as the book that nobody knows. That all-inclusive statement quite properly embraces the supreme court of the United States. A striking number of outstanding decisions have been by a five to four vote, but that does not mean that there are five justices that know the constitution and four who do not know it, because the learned justices are constantly crossing the line—each has a reasonably good batting average both with the majority and with the minority.—Stockton Independent.

CARROLL TO SHIP STOCK FOR TANFO

C. W. ("Bill") Carroll will be one of the first to ship horses to Tanforan for the race meet to open September 22. Carroll, the man who "discovered" Sun Beau and developed the Kentucky Derby winner Morvich, is known throughout the country as a master in conditioning thoroughbreds and it can be depended upon he will have his string of about 10 youngsters fit when the first field goes to the post in the coming session of the sport.

"Bill" was in somewhat of a hurry last winter to have his two year olds win a few races and rather rushed their preparation. Some of the fillies and colts, all of fashionable blood lines, earned brackets for him. When the wind-up came at Tanforan in the spring, the veteran trainer decided to give his "babies" a let up and they have been at Pleasanton all through the summer.

Tanforan fans have a distinct recollection of Kate A, Genevieve M and others of the Carroll color bearers frequently finishing inside the money even though they were not always on the front end. The fillies were remarkably consistent.

In the special coming from Vancouver one of the most formidable stables is that of A. C. Taylor, a well known breeder in British Columbia. Taylor's silks were carried to many victories in the racing that closed in the North last Saturday. "Scotty" Craigmyle, well known east and west jockey, is under contract to Taylor, who races nom de course "Taylor Stock Farm." Roy Lowe, also of prominence in race horse circles, is training for the northern establishment.

The Nevada bred Wahmonie, by imported North Star III by Nellie B by Sir Wilfred, is getting along in years but still was able to carry substantial burdens to victory in handicaps in the northern sport. Other runners in the Aaylor barn are, imported Leg Puller, the Suburban winner Dolan, Campanini and others.

The stallion Wahmonie is of more than ordinary interest to Tanforan race goers, as his maternal grandsire, Sir Wilfred, was bred at the Ormondale Stock Farm of the late William O'Brien Macdonough. Sir Wilfred, one of the fastest horses that ever looked through a bridle, was a grandson of the unbeaten Ormonde.

Del Cannon is coming up from San Clemente to Tanforan with three good horses formerly campaigned by Hamilton H. Cotton as La Brea Stable.

Truck or motor bus drivers in New York state are allowed to drive only 10 hours a day, including time out for meals, according to recent legislation.

Sunlight is about 618,000 times as bright as the light of a full moon.

SHORTAGE OF VETERANS AFFECTS FULL, TACKLE

By EL THOMAS

Lack of sufficient experienced players to provide first class relief for each position on the Sequoia Union High School football team this year has led Coach Leonard Casanova to plan for the interchanging of players in at least four positions, fullback to half and tackle to center.

Loss of all of his veterans who had experience at the fullback berth has caused the Cherokee mentor to shift two halfbacks of last year to full in 1932, and because most of the experienced men will be needed at the same time Casanova does not want to put all of his eggs in one basket by preparing men for one position only.

In other words, Roy McQuilkin and John Costa, both of whom were halfbacks last year, will alternate at fullback and while off duty will be eligible for drafting into action at halfback.

Same at Center, Tackle

The same holds true at the center and tackle positions, where Casanova has some men with experience at both berths but not enough to fully equip both positions with reserves.

Walter Worrell and Bob Svihus, two centers along with Louis Eaton last year, are playing tackle as well at present, although Worrell will see probably very little action at tackle and plenty of it at center. Svihus is pairing with Bill Ambrose, another duplicate performer, at the tackles, and the Rhoda brothers are others who play both positions.

This plan is carried even further to include the two quarterbacks, Eno Ferrando and Jimmy McGuire, both of whom are being groomed for halfback duty in case the relief man is needed to fill in.

Coaches Casanova and Al Terremere have spent the past three days drilling the Indian gridders in new formations which they will not use until the opening of the Peninsula Athletic League schedule at Burlingame October 7.

40 Lightweights Report

More than 40 candidates for the 130-pound team reported yesterday to Coach Jim Eva in their initial turnout.

While there are some with experience on last year's lightweight team, most of the men are new material to fill the jobs of the 1931 players now with the varsity. In yesterday's 130s turnout were:

George Pryor, Mike Balocco, Jack Abbott, Bruce Schoenfeld, Robert Neifing, Bill Faulstich, Louie Longwenus, Richard McIntosh, Tom Reynolds.

Harold Zook, Orville Manners, Gordon Leake, Bill Lane, Theon LeRoy, Merwin Craven, Bill Williams, Norman MacGowan, Louis Sullivan, Robert Moore, Frank Hinman.

Panthers Tie Lowell; Local Gridmen Busy

Following Burlingame high school's 1932 football debut in a scoreless tie with Lowell high at Burlingame Saturday, peninsula prep squads enter their second week of preparation for preliminary games today.

At Sequoia, Coach Leonard Casanova is running two full teams through signal practice each night and has given them eight plays already during the first five days of practice. Other new plays are to be added this week, and the Cherokees will be equipped with a varied attack when they play their first game against Santa Cruz here Admission Day.

Sequoia lightweight gridders will have their initial turnout tomorrow afternoon under Coach Jim Eva, assisted by Louis Eaton, Bill Lewis and other members of last year's varsity team.

Palo Alto football players were to report today for their first turnout under Coach "Hod" Ray.

Coach Lee Bissett's Burlingame eleven showed plenty of power in Fullback Johnny Watts and Capt. Ken Hallett, a tricky southpaw passer, against Lowell Saturday. The Panthers missed a victory in the last three minutes only because of the failure of an attempted field goal from the nine-yard line. Burlingame showed a fast-charging line.

BAYSHORE ROAD LINK IS ORDERED

Construction of 3.5 miles of the Bayshore highway from Whisman road to the Lawrence Station road at a cost of $293,000 from emergency aid funds advanced by the federal government stood approved today by the state highway commission.

Whisman road intersects the Bayshore highway section fronting on the Sunnyvale naval air station at about the entrance to the air station.

The project, it was reported by the Associated Press, was one of a number totaling $3,801,200, of which $1,977,200 will be spent in Northern California.

In the highway commission's announcement, no statement was made regarding the stretch of nearly five miles between Oregon avenue, Palo Alto, and Whisman road, for which, the department announced several days ago, plans are being prepared.

In addition to the $3,801,200 expenditure for new road construction approved by the commission, $1,350,000 was set aside from contingency reserves to be used for unemployment relief. No detailed statement was made regarding the proposed expenditure.

Two highway projects in adjoining counties were approved, one the paving of 3.2 miles from the Skyline boulevard toward Half Moon Bay in San Mateo county and the other, the grading and paving of five miles southward from a mile south of San Ardo in Monterey county at a cost of $230,000.

Man Held Up, Robbed Near U. S. Hospital

Willow Road Scene of Crime; N. H. Nasits Victim

Norman H. Nasits, former San Bruno city councilman, reported to the office of Sheriff James J. McGrath in Redwood City Monday night that he was held up and robbed of $11 near the United States Veterans' Hospital, near North Palo Alto.

Nasits was confronted by the man as he was walking along Willow road. The robber took Nasits' purse containing two $5 bills and one $1 bill.

The robber was described as about 35, and was wearing a soiled blue shirt and soiled cap, which he pulled down over his eyes.

Deputy Sheriff Timothy O'Rourke was notified of the robbery at Redwood City.

Revision of Commuters' Rates Asked

Permission to put into effect a general revision of its peninsula commutation ticket forms, with material fare reductions in several instances, has been asked of the State Railroad Commission by the Southern Pacific Company, it was announced here today.

The proposed changes are intended to simplify the sale and use of low-fare tickets between San Francisco, San Jose, Los Gatos and intermediate points, according to E. W. Clapp, general passenger traffic manager. Conferences were held by the company with civic bodies in peninsula cities before submitting the proposals to the commission.

"Regulars" Unaffected

Regular week-day commuters will not be affected by the revision, Clapp said, their ticket forms and privileges remaining unchanged. But the seven-day commutation ticket will be superseded by an "unlimited" ticket, good for any number of rides within the specified period, at no increase in price.

A substantial reduction is proposed in commutation fares between South San Francisco, San Jose, Los Gatos and intermediate cities, Clapp revealed. It is also the company's intention, he said, to establish new low one-way fares between San Francisco, San Jose, Los Gatos and way stations. For example, it was pointed out, tickets from San Francisco to San Jose will be cut from $1.74 to $1.10, and to Palo Alto, from $1.14 to 60 cents. The fare from San Francisco to Redwood City would be reduced from 96 cents to 50 cents.

Unlimited Ticket

In addition to the monthly commutation tickets, it is also proposed, as another concession to peninsula patronage, to provide a seven-day weekly unlimited ride ticket, for sale between all points in the territory involved. This class of ticket, Clapp announced, will be offered for one-quarter of the monthly unlimited ride rate.

Unknown Dead Man Wore R. C. Clothing

Discovery of a Redwood City clothier's label in the suit worn by a man found dead Saturday on a beach at Venice with a bullet wound through his heart has led Southern California authorities to request the aid of the Redwood City Police Department in identifying the victim.

The man is described as being between 30 and 35 years of age, nearly six feet tall, 160 pounds in weight, and having black hair and moustache, and brown eyes.

The coat of his two-piece suit, which police said was fairly new, bore the label of H. B. Gardiner, Redwood City. The man wore a straw hat and black shoes.

The initial "A" was found on his handkerchief and belt.

His right thumb had been cut recently, and he had a scar on the left side of the chin, the local police were informed.

CREEK CULVERT WORK SPEEDING

The second pouring of concrete on the culvert was being completed today, marking another step in the job which will provide a wide crossing at Middlefield road and San Francisquito creek. The final, pouring is scheduled in about 10 days.

After the stripping, the dirt fill will be put in place.

The job will probably be finished the first part of October, in time for the crowds expecting to attend athletic events here this fall.

Annual Gesture of Road Closing Made

The annual barricading of all roads leading into the Stanford campus occurred Monday.

Workmen armed with ropes and red flags forced all motorists to come to a full stop before they were allowed to enter the campus property. This formula is followed once each year technically to preserve the status of campus roads as private thoroughfares.

In hot weather it is folly to clip the lawn closely. Grass roots need shade to protect them from the sun and prevent the moisture from evaporating in the intense heat.
